

Business Perspective

SCCC Stimulates Economic Growth

- SCCC’s past and present activities in the workforce account for $184.1 million in labor income (i.e., wages, salaries, and benefits) and $145.7 million in property income (i.e., dividends, interest, and rent) of the region’s current economy.
- Altogether, the SCCC Service Area economy owes roughly $329.8 million of its current income to the annual operations of SCCC and the cumulative effects of its past students.

Regional Growth Due to SCCC

(amounts in millions)

SCCC Raises Consumer Spending

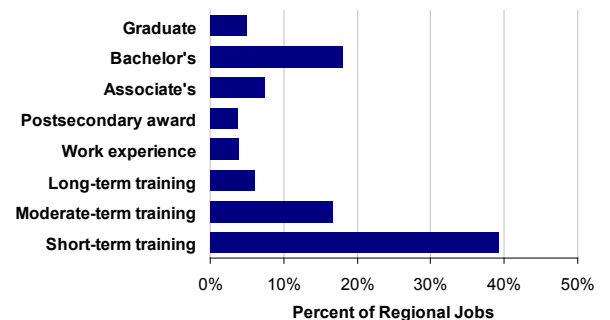

- SCCC employed 186 full-time and 316 part-time faculty and staff during FY 2006-07, with an annual payroll of $16.1 million.
- SCCC had a total operating budget of $30.7 million, of which $16.5 million (or 54%) was spent in the local region.
- Approximately 31% of SCCC’s student body came from outside the region. These students generated an estimated $1.3 million in regional sales while attending SCCC.

SCCC Creates a Skilled Workforce

- SCCC activities encourage new business, assist existing business, and create long-term economic growth. The college enhances worker skills and provides customized training to local business and industry.
- It is estimated that the present-day SCCC Service Area workforce embodies about 632,200 credit hours of past and present SCCC training. These added skills promote business productivity and increase regional income.

Skill Levels Required by Area Jobs

EMSI is a leading provider of socioeconomic impact and strategic planning tools to community and technical colleges in the US and Canada. Visit us at www.economicmodeling.com for more information. To see full documentation of the study, please contact the college.

