

Executive Summary

On March 28, 2023, our campus began an online administration of the Sexual Violence Prevalence (SVP) Campus Climate Survey. This survey was administered to students and employees and is required to address, at minimum, student and employee knowledge about:

- The Title IX Coordinator's role;
- Campus policies and procedures addressing sexual assault;
- How and where to report sexual violence as a victim/survivor or witness;
- The availability of resources on and off campus, such as counseling, health, academic assistance;
- The prevalence of victimization and perpetration of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking on and off campus during a set time period (for example, the last two years);
- Bystander attitudes and behavior;
- Whether victims/survivors reported to the College/University and/or police, and reasons why they did or did not report.
- The general awareness of the difference, if any, between the institution's policies and the penal law; and
- The general awareness of the definition of affirmative consent.

In reviewing the results, we highlight that faculty and staff are more aware of the services available to victims of sexual violence, college policies around sexual violence, and how to report incidents as compared to students. Faculty and staff are more likely to report incidents to college resources, such as the Title IX Coordinator, Human Resources, and Campus Safety. Where students are more likely to report incidents to external parties, such as local police.

Lack of awareness may be contributed to the fact that very few of the survey respondents, including faculty, staff, and students, experienced an incident of sexual violence. None the less, more effort and resources shall be aimed at increasing awareness of sexual violence services and reporting channels for the student body.

If you have any questions about the survey or the results included in this report, please contact Mark Bessette, Title IX Coordinator, TitleIX@sunysccc.edu.

Background

The SVP survey is administered every other year by all SUNY campuses, who work closely with SUNY System Administration to coordinate the survey administration itself. An effort is made to keep the questions from one administration to the next as consistent as possible to allow for reliable and meaningful longitudinal data. System-wide IRB review takes place for each survey administration.

SUNY Schenectady administered the student survey between employee survey between March 28, 2023 and April 18, 2023. Excluded survey populations were individuals under 18 years of age, all incarcerated individuals regardless of age, and all students concurrently enrolled in high school regardless of age.

They survey was sent to all eligible participants via college-issued email and no incentives were offered for participation.

Through the administration of this survey, the college identifies general awareness of services, responsibilities of reporting individuals, and rights of victims. Any gaps in knowledge identified through the survey will inform the work of the Title IX Coordinator.

Discussion and next steps

The survey responses indicate that sexual violence is not a common occurrence at SUNY Schenectady. While this is notable, we would like to see the response rate increase in future distributions of this survey to ensure this conclusion is accurate. Even with the low number of incidents, it is still important that everyone in our college community is aware of the services available to victims, how to report incidents, how incidents will be investigated, and how the college will support victims.

The Title IX Coordinator holds primary responsibility to educate students on Title IX. Human resources holds primary responsibility to educate faculty and staff. All faculty and staff have annual training requirements and Title IX is incorporated into this training. This may be the reason we see greater awareness across faculty and staff. Efforts are underway to work with the Student Government Association, student clubs, and Student Affairs to increase awareness across the student body.
